

The University of Findlay

Spring 2020

The mission of The University of Findlay is to equip our students for meaningful lives and productive careers.

Course Number: BLMC 330.56: Thailand Life and Culture

Credit Hours: 3

Class Time/Place: Loop Abroad Thailand Loop Abroad Thailand; January 20-24, 2020; Thai language lessons and evaluations continued throughout the semester

Prerequisites, Co-requisites and Course Description:

This course is your introduction and orientation to Thailand - its culture, language, history. We will also be training you in practical skills for navigating the culture both during courses and in your free time. We want you to get the most out of your semester here! During this course, we're going to make sure you're exposed to Thai culture in a variety of ways, learn Thai conversation basics, become oriented to the city of Chiang Mai, and get to know your cohort in a meaningful way. This week will include hands-on cultural activities and conversational learning with a foundation in readings about culture shock, cross-cultural learning, and Thai culture and history.

Please note: Thailand does not have the same freedom of speech protections as the United States. Making disparaging remarks about the royal family is against the law. Many resources critical of the Thai government and/or the monarchy are illegal. We strongly advise students avoid talking or asking about politics or the monarchy in public. Only when students are familiar with Thai customs and laws should they bring up these topics in private conversations. Students are always welcome to ask their instructors what is appropriate. We also strongly advise that students avoid attending or participating in any protests in Thailand, as they may be dangerous or illegal.

University Diversity Statement:

As part of our commitment to achieve excellence, the University of Findlay values and actively promotes a welcoming and supportive environment that honors the many aspects of diversity. We aspire to foster acceptance of, respect for, and appreciation of all persons in our campus community. We celebrate our commonalities and unique differences, and we acknowledge that diversity broadens learning, stimulates creativity, promotes the exchange of ideas, and prepares our students for meaningful lives and productive careers.

Course Policies and Practices:

Attendance and Participation Policy

Students are expected to attend all class meetings for which they are registered. This is regarded as a matter of individual student responsibility. The only excused reasons for absences will be illness that impairs the ability to attend and function within the classroom setting or an unavoidable personal emergency.

Students are expected to attend all class sessions on all days of class. It will be the responsibility of the student to contact the course instructor or site director, preferably before the absence, to provide the appropriate documentation and verification for the reason for the absence, and to make arrangements with the course instructor for missed work. Students are responsible for all missed class material. Students may be subject to limited participation in hands-on practice at the instructor's discretion if they have missed the underlying material needed to safely perform the task at hand.

Final Exam Date: Culture Final: January 24, 2020; Language Final: April 1, 2020

Special Services: If you are a student with a disability, it is your responsibility to inform your instructor and register with the Office of Disability Services (ods@findlay.edu) at least one week prior to a needed service so reasonable accommodations can be made.

Course and Instructor Evaluation: Each student is expected to complete the course and instructor evaluation which is sent electronically to the student by the Office of the Registrar. The electronic notification comes in the form of an e-mail from the UF Registrar's Office with the following subject line: Online survey for the designated course (e.g., BIOL 102).

Last Date of Attendance Policy: Instructors are required to indicate the last known date of attendance when a final grade of "F" or "U" is assigned to a student.

Second, students will learn vocabulary specific to the locations, animals, and activities during their veterinary courses. For each course, you will receive a course-specific vocabulary list that instructors will review with you in context. Our approach is that you will make the most of each and you are always encouraged to ask questions and be active in your own language learning.
